CONCRETE LINTELS

Stocked in Solid and U-shaped Units

With more than 70 years of lintel manufacturing experience, we've built a strong industry reputation for precise, consistent lintel tolerances. All of our lintels are rigorously tested to ensure compliance with applicable ASTM/ANSI standards.

We manufacture lintels in both solid and U-shaped configurations and stock them for immediate jobsite delivery in the sizes shown on the reverse.

U-LINTEL BENEFITS

LABOR SAVINGS
On average, U-lintels weigh 30% less than a solid lintel. Lighter units help to increase productivity.

TIME SAVINGS
Minimize the need for custom-ordered lintels by increasing reinforcement within a U-lintel. Six stocked sizes across four bed depths help keep projects on schedule and construction deadlines on track.

FLEXIBILITY
With four bed depths available, designers gain a flexible, cost-efficient structural solution that supports a variety of bond beam configurations.

QUALITY CONTROL
Manufactured in a state-of-the-art facility to strict tolerances, YBP lintels are systematically tested to ensure compliance with ASTM/ANSI standards—eliminating the uncertainty associated with field-constructed bond beam lintels.

NO NEED FOR STEEL LINTELS
Reduce trade coordination and eliminate lengthy fabrication lead times, while improving fire and corrosion resistance and minimizing the potential for cracking caused by differential movement.

Stocked Sizes

Custom lintel lengths are also available to meet specific project requirements.
